ONLY A LITTLE WAY. Written for the Intelligencer.
A little way, I know it is not far,
To that dear home wakere my believed are,
And yet my faith grows weaker as I stand,
A poor lone pligrin in a dreary land,
Where present pain the biles obscures,
And still my heart sits like a bird upon go
Oht where is the comfort though I say
They have journeyed on but a little way. them; but you can escape the sleepless nights, loss of appetite, and languid feeling that result from draining the nervous force by muscular or mental exertion in summer's torrid days. The use of Paine's Celery Compound, that great nerve tonic, will at once strengthen the nervous system and fortify it against the attacks of summer debility. This pre-paration is a medicine.

A little way, as well marginer in my est;
To all my duties loving presence send,
And with sweet ministry my steps attend,
And bring my soul the luxury of tears.
It was here we met and partid company,
Why should their gain be such a grief to me?
Dear Savjor take the burden off 1 pray,
And show me heaven is but a little way.

The Intelligencer.

These sombre robes, these saddened faces, all The bitterness and pain of death recall. Ah! let me turn my face where'e I may I see the trace of sure decay; And parting takes the narrow out of life, Secure in bliss we hold the golden chain, which death with scarce a warning snap twain; The broken links, it was only yesterday They vanished from our sight a little way.

A little way, this sentence I repeat.
Hoping and longing to extract some sweet
To mingle with the hitter, from thy hand
I take the cup, I cannot understand,
And my weak self lighte to thee
Although it seems so very, very far
To that dear home where my beloved are.

MR. ELKINS' POLITICAL WISDOM.

Brond Truths and Profound Generalizations from His Address at Morgantown. The Martinsburg Independent culls the following striking sentences from Mr. S. B. Elkins' recent address before the University Literary Societies. They are well worth reproducing:

The salvation of European civilization has been due, among other things, to emigration and shifting of population. There is no such safety-valve for the United States.

Civilization holds within itself the rms of its own destruction.

There is a whole empire of questions in our domestic concerns that statute law cannot reach, and where natural laws are supreme and govern.

The true office and functions of popular government is to secure the welfare and contentment of the people—something more than the mere administration of law and the protection of the country from invasion. As education increases and civiliza-

Protection in the South.

Among the most significant changes of Democrats to the support of the Republican Protection platform of the hundreds already noted in the calumns of the Press are those of manufacturers in Kentucky and West Virginia. Numbers of these have been put on record already, and their reasons, openly stated, are forcible and direct. They decline any longer to support a party whose policy is to destroy the industries of the country, which have been built up under a protection system, and which farnish employment to labor everywhere.

This is an evidence of the assertion of the business. South over the political South which may not be general enough to prove effective this year, but which must in the course of time cursos a record of the must in the course of time cursos a record.

ment of the mines of the South, of manufactures and of all kinds of industry under the Republican system of Protection has been marvelous. It could not have been done under Free Trade, under free iron ore and free coal, which it was originally designed to put in the bill now before Congress, and which, in the event of Democratic success, will ultimately come. While the present Free Trade effort chiefly strikes a blow at Northern products and manufacturers it is but an entering wedge, as its authors have repeatedly claimed, and the South can not long escape.

The interests of the South are quite as can not long escape.

The interests of the South are quite as much with Protection as those of the North. Northern capital has freely responded to Southern invitation to develop the resources of that section, and the result has been a benefit to the whole South. Cities have grown, population has greatly multiplied, the vaerage of wealth has increased and the standard and dignity of labor has been raised. The business South must desire a continuance of this, but the political South may destroy it all by persisting in the return of Free Trade members of Congress who do not represent the material interests of their constituents.

Cities have grown, population has greatly multiplied, the average of wealth has increased and the standard and dignity of labor has been raised. The business South must desire a continuance of this, but the political South may destroy it all by persisting in the return of Free Trade members of Congress who do not represent the material interests of their constituents.

That which now affects the manufacturer in Kentucky and West Virginia and causes him to desert the Free Trade perty must sooner or later, if not now defeated, affect the industrics of the whole South. It is not the purpose of the Free Traders to stop where they are. The South can do as much as the North to halt them, and it will halt them in a most effective way when the situation is fully understood and the business South rises up and takes the place of the politi-

The Only Way to Cure Intemperance.

Senator Platt, of Connecticut, in a recent speech, says:—"Instead of denounc-ing the rum power I have tried to fix your thoughts on drink power. I have not spoken of the evils of intemperance, but rather of the evils of drink; for I am but rather of the evils of drink; for I am persuaded that it is drinking intoxicating liquors which is breaking down national integrity and threatering free institution, and that all who drink must accept their share of the responsibility. All successful temperance reform must be predicated on total abstinence."

But Mr. Platt forgets to add that we never succeeded in abolishing yellow covered literature from the young by mere prohibition. We had to educate our boys and girls to a power and a will to choose good reading. Temperance must come from an infusion of high purpose into education. Nor is it true that must come from an infusion of high pur-pose into education. Nor is it true that our national integrity is being broken down, or anything like it. Our Senator should be accurate.

Removed for Shouting for Harrison.

Pittsburgh, July 30.—Among the passengers who arrived in the city from the West this morning was H. C. Bruce, a young brother of Blauche K. Bruce, the colored Senator from Mississippi. Mr. Bruce was on his way back to Washington, where he holds the position of an examiner in the Pension office.

"Of course, I am a Republican," he said, "but I do not want to have anything to say on political methods, for that is one of the most strictly enforced rules of the Pension Department. We cannot talk politics or take any part in them beyond depositing our vote. Several clerks have been removed for such things. Only a short time ago a young Irish-American named Wylie, holding an $1,800 clerkship in the Pension Department, was removed for shouting for Harrison." Removed for Shouting for Harrison.

Now Fork Disputes.

An appeal was circulated at the head-quarters of the National Republican Executive Committee to-day. A folded card headed "Under Which Flag?" Below this was a picture of the Stars and Stripes, surmounted by a streamer bearing the legend "Freemen and Protection," while on the opposite side is the Union Jack with the words "Free Trade and Exiction." It says that the American Start of the Proceedings of the Proceeding Processing Start of the Union Jack with the words "Free Trade and Eviction." It says that the American's choice for President and Vice-President is Harrison and Morton, while England's favorite candidates are Cleveland and Thurman. Then a statement of what Free Trade has done for Ireland follows, and also the following:

"Who donated $250,000 for provisions and sent them to starving Ireland?"

"Answer—Levi P. Morton."

"Who sent the munificent sum of $20 to the earthquake sufferers of Charleston?"

"Answer-Grover Cleveland."

An Explanation.

What is tiffs "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown—to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Billiousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise South which may not be general enough to prove effective this year, but which must in the course of time cause a revolution throughout that whole section of the country. Kentucky was once a protection State, and Tennessee and North Carolina, as well as several others, knew how to cast their votes that way when the issue was raised and their in terests were directly involved.

The reasons why the South should sustain Protection are now a hundred fold more potent than they were then. They are business reasons and they are feet nearly every State. The development of the mines of the South, of man ufactures and of all kinds of industry the sustain the succession of the south, of man ufactures and of all kinds of industry the succession of the country. Succession of the succession of the succession of the succession of the country. Succession of the country word used by our forefathers in times year, so it is with nervous diseases, as for they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandlathers called Biliousness, and all are caused by troubles flow and they and make a reveal of the succession of the succession
